Our philosophy

Tom understands that his clientele are educated buyers who expect to have the most elegant and sophisticated photography coverage possible. For over 25 years he has made it a priority to be committed to complete client satisfaction. From your initial meeting with Tom at a location of your choice, to the final presentation of your album, you can be confident that you have made the right decision choosing a photographer. He will be glad to help you design the photography coverage you desire.

Our style

Most of Tom's clients prefer an artistic approach to classical portrait photography and candid photojournalistic coverage at their event. One of his priorities is to be completely unobtrusive so he can capture all of the excitement and action at your wedding without distracting your guests.
